THANKS, BOB...

"What you see is what I get," which means this brief column is space left for comment in this edition of your Herald.

Nothing more apt, for this newspaper and this columnist, could fill this space than a bit of Bob Considine's "A Newspaperman's Prayer," written in entirety by the then-INS feature writer later to do news on NBC's "Today" until his death. It is copyright 1955 by International News Service.

"...Let me champion just causes, avoid expediency, never lose the stimulation engendered by printer's ink. Remind me to be kind to copy boys, for I'll meet them on the way back down - when they are editors. Protect the innocent from me when, with deadlines pressing, my aim grows fuzzy.

"Make me use my legs and eyes, the better to track down and see the truth. Deafen me to the Lorelei song of rootless hearsay, rumor and gossip of town loafers. If word that could cause great harm comes to me, even from sources far above reproach, let me have the dexterity and decency to pick up a phone and ask the subject about it.....

".....As long as our men fight, sweat, freeze or die in actual or cold war, sacrifices which at times should make our food stick in our throats and our luxuries a torment, let me never cheaply use the words "courage" or "guts" to describe the means by which a pitcher wins a ball game, a gridman bucks a line, a golfer sinks a put, or a fellow makes a speech.

"And above all, let me recall repeatedly what the great teachers of the past...Moses and Socrates and Christ...would have done if by some alchemy they had been given the breathtaking break of swift and far-flung communications."

NOW-NOW-NOW

That is the sense for news we arrogate to ourselves, a lofty, perhaps naive set of values for what we do. Let those who doubt us, however, examine the record.

It is with Considine and men like him we reflect on what goes down here.

THE NOON LIONS CLUB has recently purchased and donated to the Youth Exposition Building eight 5-row grandstands. The seating capacity of these units is approximately 440 persons. The stands, which cost

$2,240, were delivered to the building and assembled by Green Thumb workers. Members of the club are shown here on the stands.

Dates Set For Beef Vote

Tentative dates for the national Beef Referendum, in which all cattlemen will have an opportunity to vote on a self-help program, have just been announced by the USDA. The dates are June 6-17 for registration and July 5-15 for voting.

"Cattle industry leaders have been waiting three years for these dates," says J. D. Sartwell of Houston, who is chairman of the Texas Beef Development Task Force. "That's how long we have been working to get a self-help program aimed at stabilizing and improving the beef market."

The program, known as the Beef Research and Information Act, was put together by cattle industry leaders and approved by Congress last year. If approved by two-thirds of the cattlemen voting, it will authorize a uniform collection of 3/10 of 1% of the value on each animal sold.

This rate will raise $30 million to $40 million a year for beef research, promotion, consumer education and foreign market development, according to Sartwell. The funds will be administered by a 68-member Beef Board, comprised of cattlemen nominated by existing cattlemen's organizations.

"We have just begun an extensive educational program, aimed at reaching every cattleman in Texas," says Sartwell. "In addition to the 60 member Texas Beef Development Task Force, representing beef and dairy organizations throughout the state, we have a county Taskforce in each of Texas' 254 counties. We're all working to explain the merits of the program to cattlemen and encourage them to register and vote. Helping to spearhead the educational effort is the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, plus other cattlemen's organizations and general farm organizations."

Truck Mishaps Reported

Wet pavement was blamed for two truck mishaps that occurred Wednesday around 1 p.m. Neither driver was injured. A truck owned by Safe-way and driven by Allen Farmer jackknifed at the intersection of Industrial Blvd. and Highway 77 and landed in a ditch. At about the same time a double-decker cattle truck went off the road a half mile south of Burlington and the cab turned over. It was driven by James Schaffner of Sealy.

Belly Dancing, Anyone?

Belly Dancing, along with macrame and landscape gardening, are the new courses to be offered in adult community education programs at Rockdale High School. Registration for macrame and belly dancing will be at 6 p.m. Monday at RHS while landscape gardening registration will be Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Tax Offices To Merge

The Hearne city council has voted to accept a proposal by the Hearne schools calling for one tax assessor-collector to serve both. City and school officials have been discussing combining the two offices for several months. The school board gave its approval to the suggested change at its April meeting. Plans call for two sets of tax rolls to be used and separate equalization boards.

Road Bond Issue Set

The Burleson County Commissioners Court has tentatively set Saturday, May 21, as the date for a special election on a $400,000 road bond issue. Concern was expressed about the deteriorating condition of county roads and extensive repairs called for. No tax increase is anticipated to finance the repayment of the bonds.

Robbers Plead Guilty

Jewlester Jackson, a former Austin Police Dept. teletype operator, and his brother Tommy Ray Jackson, both pleaded guilty in federal court to the robbing of the Thorndale State Bank in January. Sentencing was set for Thursday.

Fireman's Fund Grows

Funds for Tommy Layne, Rosebud fireman who was seriously burned in a rural fire, have grown to $2,326.52 in the two Rosebud banks, and a benefit supper last week is expected to add about $1200. Donation jars have also been placed around the city, and reports are that coins are being deposited in them at a good pace.

Rate Increase Tabled

The Temple city commission has postponed action on a Texas Power and Light Co. citywide rate increase request until after the Texas Public Utilities Commission rules April 25 on the company's statewide rate hike request. A study by a Dallas accounting firm recommends a 12.8 percent rate increase instead of the 34 percent increase requested.

School Asks Bond Issue

Georgetown school trustees voted last week to ask their constituents to approve two separate propositions totaling $1,885,000 on a May 21 bond issue proposal. The funds would be used for additions and repairs to three schools, addition of a school bus maintenance barn, and a running track for the high school.

Yoe High Names Two Top Seniors

Richard Raymond as valedictorian and Eloise Henderson as salutatorian have been named top seniors of the 1977 Yoe High graduating class.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Raymond, Jr. of Cameron and Eloise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Henderson Jr., also of Cameron.

Richard's grade point average is 95.17 and Eloise has an average of 94.65.

Richard has been a member of the student council for four years, and is serving as president this year. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Junior Historians, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, United Youth Fellowship, and served on the Cameron Bicentennial committee.

He played football for four years, was a member of the golf team for four years, was in basketball a year in track for two years, and in tennis for two years.

Richard has received many awards in both the Yoe and regional science fairs. He placed first in the school's history fair for three years and had the outstanding exhibit in the 1977 state history fair.

He is an Eagle Scout and an Alcoa scholarship alternate.

His college plans are to attend Baylor University where he will major in banking and accounting.

Eloise, who plans to attend The University of Texas this fall and major in English and communications, was voted "most likely to succeed" by her classmates.

She has been in the National Honor Society for three years, has played in the Yoe High band for four years, and has been a member of the Junior Historians for three years. She has been a member of the Spanish Honor Society for three years, was a class officer and a member of the student council.

She has participated in the regional science fair for three years and won many honors in Yoe science fairs. She participated in the junior, senior, and one-act plays for Yoe High.

TP&L Ahead On Carter's Energy Proposals

Texas Power & Light Company is already implementing many of the major energy proposals of President Jimmy Carter, TP&L President J. F. Skelton said today.

Skelton's statement follows President Carter's energy message to congress and the nation Wednesday night.

Skelton cited President Carter's call for utility companies to move from using natural gas and oil to other fuels such as coal and nuclear. He noted TP&L began planning for the use of lignite coal in the 1940's when the company negotiated its first lignite leases in East Texas.

TP&L and its affiliates, Dallas Power & Light, and Texas Electric Company, began using lignite for generating electricity in 1971. Skelton said that currently, 40% of the electricity supplied to TP&L customers is generated by lignite, and by the end of 1978, that figure will reach 62%.

"We plan to move into the nuclear age in 1981," Skelton noted, "when the first unit at our Comanche Peak facility is scheduled for service. President Carter's proposal for streamlining the licensing process for nuclear plants would certainly make easier the job of getting Comanche Peak in operation."

The TP&L president also noted that a new company affiliate, Chaco Energy Company, was created late last year, to provide sub-bituminous coal from New Mexico. Chaco Energy has already leased 400,000 tons of this coal. Some of the company's existing gas/oil fired plants will be rebuilt to utilize this fuel.

Skelton said the company is in the midst of a massive construction program that will see 72 per cent of the company's production coming from lignite, 18 per cent from nuclear and coal, and only 10 per cent from gas and oil by the mid-1980's.

Changing from gas and oil to lignite, coal, and nuclear fuels is expensive, said Skelton. "In the case of lignite, hundreds of millions of dollars must be spent to build new plants near lignite deposits. The costs of converting plants for use of lignite and transporting the lignite to those plants would be even greater."

Skelton supported President Carter's call for greater use of solar energy. He noted the company has been involved in limited experimentation with solar equipment.

"Solar has some distance to go," said Skelton, "but certainly Mr. Carter's proposal would provide encouragement of additional development and a speedup of greater use of this virtually untapped source of energy."

"The changes dictated by President Carter's proposals to congress will mean tremendous capital outlay for Texas Power and Light," Skelton said. "To meet the challenge, we must have the support of our customers and adequate rate relief from the various regulatory bodies so that we may obtain the dollars for necessary construction."

Regarding Carter's environmental concerns, Skelton said, "We too want to maintain clean air and good land management. But we would hope that environmental requirements for our lignite and nuclear plants would not become unreasonable or an obstacle to our progress."

On the matter of electric rate, Skelton said the company agrees that rates should be based on the cost of service. TP&L he said, has and will continue to establish rates that are fair and equitable to all customers.

However, "time-of-day" pricing, as proposed by President Carter needs more study, according to Skelton.

"Under present circumstances," he said, "the cost of installing necessary metering equipment for such a program would more than offset any savings to the customer."

The TP&L president said Mr. Carter's proposals for conservation of energy closely parallels the company's program to assist customers in eliminating energy waste and cutting their cost of electricity.

"We have urged our customers to add insulation, storm windows, and weather stripping to minimize energy loss," said Skelton, "We have also encouraged them to maintain appropriate thermostat settings and to use more energy efficient appliances in the home."

In this regard, Skelton said, the company will initiate within the next 30 to 45 days, a program to assist customers in improving the energy efficiency of their homes and building. In some cases, he said, the company will assist customers in obtaining necessary financing for such improvements.

"But conservation will not accomplish the entire job," Skelton said. "We must encourage increased production of oil, gas, and coal and provide incentives for the producers."

"We are in an energy crisis," said Skelton, "one that dictates many changes for Texas Power and Light and in the lifestyle of its customers. But every action we take will continue to be in the best interest of our customers."

The Carter Crunch

Governor Briscoe says the President has been "taken in" by the Washington bureaucracy on his energy proposals relating to deregulation and most of the plan Mr. Carter took before a joint session of Congress last week.

The battle is thus joined in Texas and in Washington.

The environmentalists and consumer groups are pleased with the proposals.

The Governor says "22 years of federal regulation of the inter-state market has been a complete disaster."

Mr. Briscoe sees "disaster" for Texas energy production and for the whole program if it follows the outline now before Congress.

Texas natural gas would be regulated under federal fiat if the President's proposals are approved. But House Speaker Tip O'Neal has already said the package is optimistic, but in effect getting it intact through Congress is more than optimistic, if not illusory.

Said Governor Briscoe: "Texas has been pulling harder than any other State to solve this problem. I agree we should all pull together. But let's have some of the other states pulling, I'm for a real national energy policy."

The Governor supported Mr. Carter's successful election in Texas and stopped short of accusing the Georgian of breaking campaign commitments about oil and gas deregulation.

Knowing the President's campaign style, the Governor must be aware Mr. Carter's considerable ability to bridge issues may be revealed here.

The Governor even mentioned the possibility of going to court to test constitutionality of any federal jurisdiction over in-state natural gas.

And if that test suit comes, we shall have seen the first breach between the conservative in Mr. Briscoe and the moderate-liberal in Mr. Carter.

It is difficult, if not impossible to tell what Congress is going to do in this first of the President's major domestic battles.

A Real Yardstick

One yardstick for measuring development of retail sales is, of course, the city sales tax which in Cameron is reported one third more than a year ago.

Translated into dollars, that means Cameron has received $35,424.93 the first quarter of 1977, or 33 per cent more than last year.

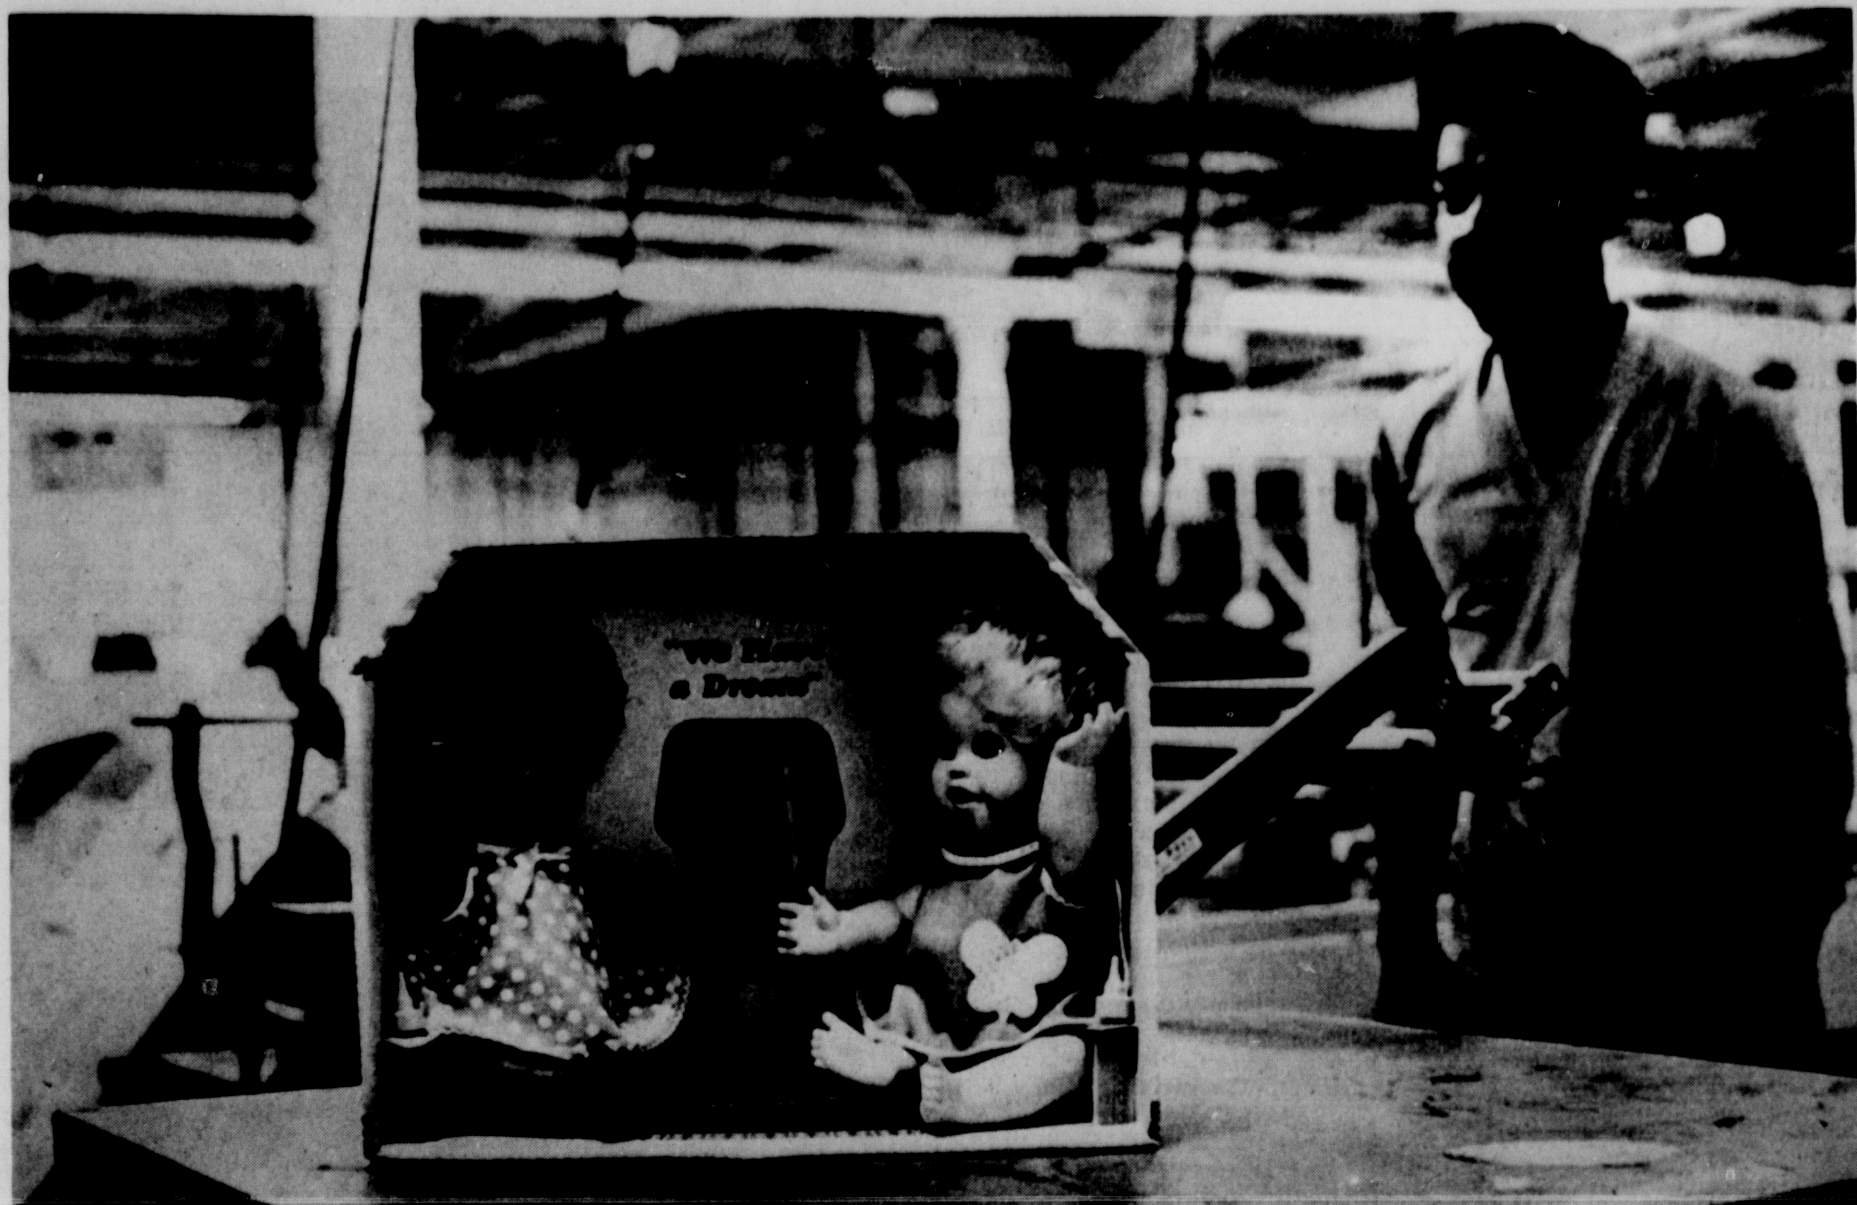

Inflation is a relatively small part of that. The real figures, discounting an annual inflation factor of perhaps 6 to 8 per cent puts the gain at more than 25 per cent in one year.

Rogers showed a 5 per cent increase, Rockdale 14 per cent.

Other area cities, particularly Temple-Belton-Killeen are showing major gains as the Bell County area has become one of the top 100 markets in the U. S.

But Cameron has steadily built into these gain years with prospects for far greater improvement in the next 3 to 5 years with the lignite and power generating projects already on the drawing boards.

The growth factor is quite real.

WE HAVE A DREAM. Will the dream of racial equality fail to be realized because of the realities of American racism?

Duplicity And Racism

By KENNETH B. CLARK

Editor's Note: This is the fifteenth of 16 articles in the series, "Moral Choices in Contemporary Society." In this article the psychologist Kenneth B. Clark discusses the duplicity that leads Americans to profess a set of idealistic principles regarding race that are constantly violated in practice. These articles, which explore the controversial moral dilemmas that perplex Americans today, were written for COURSES BY NEWSPAPER, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Copyright 1977 by the Regents of the University of California.

Probably one of the most disturbing experiences in the development of any sensitive and intelligent child is to be confronted with the fact that his parents, his teachers, his rabbi or his priest are capable of saying one thing and believing or behaving in terms of the opposite.

Almost every child at some time before adolescence is required to cease questioning flagrant moral inconsistencies on the part of some authority figure by being indirectly or explicitly told, "Do as I say, not as I do." The frequency with which individuals are required to adjust to various forms of moral duplicities in complex societies suggests that apparent acceptance of these inconsistencies is an index of socialization and maturity.

Those who, for whatever reason, persist in demanding moral consistency are at best told to "grow up" or are dismissed or punished as deviants and "trouble makers."

MORAL SCHIZOPHRENIA
One could speculate that a society which prides itself upon its democratic principles of justice, equality and human responsibility for the welfare of one's fellow human beings places a major additional and inescapable moral burden upon its citizens.

When Thomas Jefferson translated the Judaic-Christian principle of human equality into the political principle of "inalienable rights" that justified the American Revolution at the same time that he and other Founding Fathers continued to accept and justify human slavery, they laid the foundation for the "moral schizophrenia" that continues to dominate America. Every American child must be socialized to come to terms with the twin realities of the morality of the American ideals and the "practical" reality of the required violation of these ideals.

Our children are taught that all men are created equal in segregated schools and segregated churches that are concrete mockeries of the word of justice and equality.

The teachers who are required to teach the values of democracy are at the same time required to justify by rationalizations or silence the persistent absence of democracy in their classrooms.

Members of the clergy and their religious leaders must be careful not to alienate their parishioners by being too demanding in a literal interpretation of the concept of the "fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man."

Parents must find ways to have their children understand that there are limits to the extent to which principles of equality can be permitted to threaten the status and the aspirations of the family.

COPING WITH MORAL CONFLICTS

In recent years we have seen an increasing number of young Americans seeking to resolve their moral conflicts by rebelling against the success and affluence of their families, by escaping into cults and communes and wandering off into morally uncharted jungles for personal self-destruction.

It is ironic and indicative of the depth of racist indoctrination of American children that even at the height of the collective rebellion of American youth in the late 1960's and the early 1970's, they did not make the rejection of American racist practices a clear and sustained objective of their protests.

Moral duplicity is therefore an inherent and inescapable aspect of the "democratic" socialization of all American children. These moral conflicts have their personal and social consequences. Individuals are required to cope with them by one or more devices.

Most human beings appear to accept the given moral inconsistencies of their society either passively or cynically. They accept the facts of injustice as given, adopt a personal "dog-eat-dog" philosophy, and function in terms of the prevailing rationalizations of their society as long as they are not personally victimized.

More sensitive human beings tend to internalize guilt; they remain personally concerned about the moral duplicity of their society and sometimes work for social progress even at the risk of ridicule and ostracism.

RATIONALIZING DUPLICITY

The problems of coping with societal moral duplicity do not remain personal. They start with society, they infect individuals and they become institutionalized. They become parts of the pattern and fabric of our political, economic, educational and religious life.

Moral duplicity becomes euphemistically rationalized by such terms as "practical," "realistic," "hard headed" and "tough minded". When examined, it is revealed that these terms mean that the discrepancy between moral values and immoral practices must be accepted. We tell ourselves and our children that the verbal ideals can be accepted so long as they do not interfere with "convenience," "efficiency" and "success."

Individuals are the agents for the perpetration and perpetuation of social moral insensitivity. These are generally successful individuals, rewarded individuals.

These individuals are frequently found in governmental, corporate, educational and religious leadership roles.

These are the main characters of Watergate. These are the corporate leaders who design and implement bribes in obtaining economic advantages from government officials.

These are the educational and intellectual leaders who seek to justify racial segregation in our schools, colleges and universities -- or remain silent in the face of this flagrant contradiction of the meaning and purpose of education. These are men who consider segregation normal and who find it difficult to understand those who question their right, indeed their obligation, to function in terms of an unquestioned and "realistic" Machiavellian dualism.

MACHIAVELLIAN DUALISM

The advice which Machiavelli gave to the Prince can be summed up as not to confuse personal morality with those imperatives which are required as the leader of the state.

This simplistic Machiavellian dualism seems to be the foundation of contemporary governmental, economic and educational leadership. This is true in spite of the fact that Machiavelli was advising the Prince in the early 16th Century.

The world of the present, the nuclear age, demands not only a critical reexamination of Machiavellianism but also major efforts to modify personal behavior and the operation and leadership of social institutions toward moral consistencies.

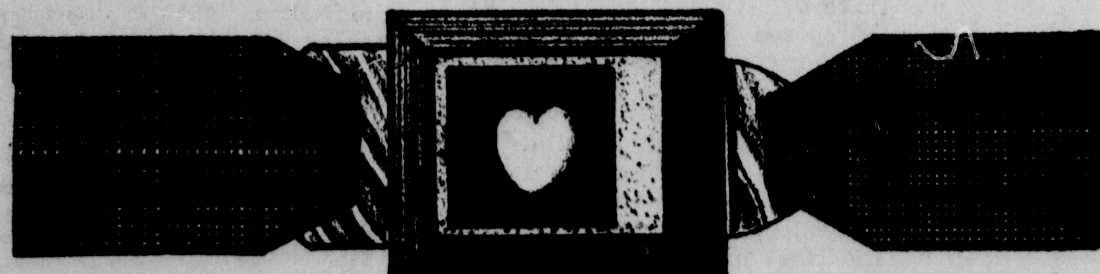

In the contemporary nuclear age, Machiavellian dualism is not only anachronistic, but it also threatens survival of the human species. Collective, institutional immorality, no matter how sophisticated and intellectually rationalized, now emerges as even more destructive potentially than interpersonal forms of immorality.

Accepted collective moral duplicity merely postpones human extinction. This anachronism invites the ultimate catastrophe.

Racism and all other forms of institutionalized and rationalized inhumanity and cruelties are forms of moral duplicity. If mankind is to survive, the most "practical" and "realistic" basis for human interaction must now be a rigid adherence to consistent moral ideals.

The views expressed in COURSES BY NEWSPAPER are those of the authors only and do not necessarily reflect those of the University of California, the National Endowment for the Humanities, or of the participating newspapers and colleges. NEXT WEEK: Professor Phillip Rieff of the University of Pennsylvania concludes the series with a discussion of moral education for today's changing world.

Former Cameronite United In Ceremony Recently

Miss Katherine Patricia
Fox and Joe Tillman Greene Jr. were married April 2 in a 4 p.m. ceremony at the Glen Alpine First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fox of Glen Alpine and her husband is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Joe T. Greene SR. of Route 1, Morganton, N.C.
The Rev. Sam Murphy, pastor officiated in the double ring service. Mrs.
Katherine Whittemore was pianist. Jim Buchanan was violinist and Jerry Burleson and Avery Murphy sang.

A 15-branch and two spiral candelabra with lighted tap-pers and two baskets of white gladioli white mums and blue iris and a single kneeling bench formed the setting for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal quiana gown fashioned with a graceful oval neckline ringed with silk Venise lace flowerets. Long fitted sleeves, accented with lace appliques ended in lace cuffs with tiny covered buttons.
Appliques of lace trimmed the bodice and encircled the empire waistline topping a graceful A-line skirt and flowing wateau chapel train.
A headpiece of silk Venise lace and pearls held her fingertip mantilla of lace.
She added a Cana cross necklace, a gift of her bridegroom and carried a small cascade of white carnations and white rosebuds with blue and white satin ribbon streamers on a white bible.

Miss Sue Ann Kennedy of College Atation, a former room mate of the bride was made of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Norma Ross of Glen Alpine, cousin of the bride. They wore identical floor length gowns of blue magic knit designed with a scooped neckline and capelet sleeves. Each carried two long stemmed carnations tied with ribbon streamers.

Flower girl was Lori Ann Byrd of Glen Alpine, cousin of the bride. John Burleson of Morganton, nephew of the bridegroom was ring bearer.
Sonny Taylor of Waynesville was best man. Ushers were Jerry Burleson of Morganton, nephew of the bridegroom. Allen Fox and Wendell Fox, brothers of the bride both of Glen Alpine and Rick Burleson.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony. The bride's parents were hosts.

The new Mrs. Greene attended Yoe High School in Cameron and received a BS degree in elementary education from Texas A&M University in College Station.
She teachers at Oak Hill Elementary School.

Mr. Greene attended Glen Alpine High School and is a graduate of Winston - Salem Barber School. He is a vocational rehabilitation instructor at Western Carolina Center.

Following a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple will live on Route 2,

The price of electricity must continue to go up.

Texas Power & Light wants its customers to know why.

Providing dependable electric service at a fair price.

This has been a constant aim of Texas Power & Light Company
since it began operation in 1912.
We have a good record of accomplishment.

We've kept pace with an ever-growing need for electricity and twelve times in our 65-year history we've reduced the price.
The average price of each kilowatt-hour of electricity supplied to residential customers in 1976 was about the same as it was in 1956.

The dollar amount of customers' bills increased in this 20-year period because average annual usage of electricity increased... more than four and a half times greater in 1976 than in 1956.

In the early 1970's, the costs of producing and supplying electricity began to go up at an unprecedented rate.

TP&L's annual expenditures for constructing generating plants, transmission lines and other facilities skyrocketed from $98 million in 1970 to $261 million in 1976. The cost of fuels required to generate electricity rose from $26 million in 1970 to $186 million in 1976...a 615% increase.

Texas Power & Light is doing everything possible to hold down the price of electricity, but the mounting pressures of inflation leave us no choice...we must ask our customers to pay more for the electricity they use.

High Potency Vitamin E

Sexual Potency Quickly Improves With New 'E-Pill'

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Special)—
An amazing new "super-charged" vitamin E-Pill has recently been developed that reportedly "quickly increases and rejuvenates sexual drives and potency for both men and women of all ages. It also makes them feel healthier and more youthful". It is now available to the American public.

The new high potency E-Pill not only seems to increase sexual ability of both sexes but also "actually perks up sexual interest and stimulates a persons desires," according to a spokesman for the manufacturer.

ALSO IMPROVES GENERAL HEALTH
This new, easy-to-take E-Pill contains newly formulated, highly concentrated vitamin E. It tends to quickly build up and strengthen the natural physiological processes of the body that are believed to be basically responsible for its potency, youthfulness, health and long life.

HELPS 4 OUT OF 5 PEOPLE
Indications are that the new E-Pill gives quick and effective results to as high as 4 out of 5 people (80%) who have used it.
Some people report no great change but feel the high potency of vitamin E in the pill does quickly make them feel better from a general health standpoint.

Other reports also show it tends to "lessen daily tension and give a more relaxed, happier outlook on life."

NOW AVAILABLE
The use of these high potency (one-a-day) E-Pills is perfectly safe and are now available without prescription from the manufacturer by mail order only. To get your supply, send $6.95 for a 2 week supply, (or $10.95 for a 30 day supply, or $17.95 for a 60 day supply) cash, check or
M.O. to: E-Pill, Dept. 516, 447

Citizens Can Review Textbooks

Copies of every book submitted to the Texas Education Agency for the 1977 state textbook adoption will be available to all interested citizens for review at each of the 20 regional education service centers throughout the state beginning May 5.

Sample books will be on file in each center library during regular business hours, according to J. Henry Perry, Texas Education Agency textbook division director.

All major publishers are expected to submit text materials for the Texas adoption in selected elementary and secondary school subject areas, Perry points out. The new materials may be adopted for a maximum of six years.

Books will be studied in detail by members of the State Textbook Committee and their local advisors throughout the summer, Perry adds.

The 15-member committee, which includes public school administrators and teachers, will be appointed by the State Board of Education at its May 14 meeting in Austin. Committee members will also seek the views of other teachers in their own districts concerning each book or comprehensive system submitted for adoption.

A series of public hearings will be held in Austin in order to gather citizen viewpoints and opinion before the State Board of Education adopts textbooks at its November 12 meeting in Austin. The new materials will be available for students on September 1, 1978.

Open House For Retirees Planned

About 17,000 persons from Texas have been invited to the fourth annual Ft. Hood open house for retirees on May 21.

The annual event is sponsored to offer military retirees, their widows, survivors and dependents an opportunity to gather the latest information on benefits, privileges and rights and to keep them abreast of developments in the active Army.

Keynote speaker for the open house will be Co. Keith S. Lain, U. S. Army Retired, who is serving a four year term on the Army Chief of Staff's Officer Retiree Council. The speech will follow the formal welcoming of visitors at 10 a.m. in Theater One.

At 11:15 a.m. the open house will move to the Whittington Community Center where visitors will meet with professionals in the fields of legal assistance, civil service employment, Social Security, retired pay, the Texas Employment Commission, and retiree medical and veterans' benefits.

Also available will be the services of military identification card renewal or issuance.

In addition, a Health on Wheels trailer will offer dieting information, weight checks, taking of blood pressure and screening of immunization records.

Finale of the day's activities will be the Retiree Roundup dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Ft. Hood Mini Dome. The dinner is sponsored by the Greater Killeen Chamber of Commerce and will include a social hour and buffet dinner.

Reservations for the dinner and the cost of the $3.50 per person dinner must be received by the Greater Killeen Chamber of Commerce by May 17. There are only 900 tickets available and they will be reserved on a first-come, first-served basis, officials said.

Reservation forms for the other open house activities must be returned to Ft. Hood by May 18.

Any retirees who have not received an invitation to the event are asked to contact Mr. E. G. Fish, Ft. Hood Retirement Services Officer at 817-685-5210.

Texas Hunting Good In Spring

Hunting in Texas traditionally is associated with fall, but there still is plenty of hunting opportunity throughout the state during spring.

Squirrels and rabbits lack the glamour of deer and pronghorn antelope but the two little animals probably account for more recreation time than any of the big game species combined.

Squirrels are legal game year round in many Texas counties along the upper coast, central and western portions, with no bag or possession limits. Officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department caution hunters, however, to check a copy of the Hunting and Fishing Guide for regulations in specific counties.

Texas has two major species of squirrels considered as game animals - the eastern gray squirrel and fox squirrel.

As its name implies, the eastern species is found primarily in the eastern quarter of the state. It lives in bottomland hardwood forests. Gray squirrels are highly prized in East Texas as game animals. But they are decreasing over most of their range because of removal of favored habitat by reservoir development projects and timber cutting.

Fox squirrels range farther west and are found over most of the eastern two-thirds of the state. They are adaptable to a wide variety of forest habitat, including urban areas which have oaks and pecans.

Acorns are the natural mainstay of fox squirrels, although they are most important in fall and winter. Spring and summer foods consist of leftover mast, insects, green shoots, fruits and seeds of trees.

Mahor species of rabbit hunted in Texas is the eastern cottontail, which is found in all areas of the state with the exception of the Trans-Pecos. The cottontail is not classified as a game animal and may be hunted at any time of the year with no bag or possession limits.

However, as is the case with all animals and birds, a hunting license is required if they are hunted out of the county of hunter's residence.

Favored among hunters in East Texas is the swamp rabbit, largest of cottontails. The animal inhabits poorly drained river bottoms and coastal marshes.

and Wildlife Service hatcheries. One group of fish is keeper-sized (eight inches long or more) and stocked immediately upon arrival. Another group of smaller fish is placed in state hatchery ponds, allowed to grow to an average of eight inches and then stocked.

"Since we receive two sizes of trout," said Bounds, "we are able to stock them from December through April of any given year, as we have done this year."

All that is needed to catch this traditional, cold-water game fish is a fishing license and access to one of the five locations in Central or East Texas or the Panhandle's Rita Blanca Reservoir.

There is a five-fish daily bag limit.

More Rainbows Stocked In River

More than 120,000 catchable-sized rainbow trout have been stocked in the clear, cool waters of the Canyon Dam tailrace of the Guadalupe River so far this year, and Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fisheries biologists hope to extend this fishery through the summer months.

Trout fishing in Texas has been available on the Guadalupe since a pilot program was established in 1966 with the stocking of rainbow trout into the then recently completed Canyon Dam tailrace.

The program became an almost immediate success with Central Texas anglers. Since then, the put-and-take program has grown to the point where more than 100,000 catchable-sized rainbows are stocked yearly in selected streams and reservoirs around Texas.

"A total of 200,000 rainbows has been stocked in the Guadalupe, Boykin Reservoir in East Texas, Possum Kingdom tailrace on the Brazos River, Rock Creek and Lake Rita Blanca in the Panhandle so far this year," said Bob Bounds, Parks and Wildlife Department inland fisheries biologist.

The single largest fishery for trout in Texas, however, is the tailrace below Canyon Dam. There, relatively cold water for almost 10 months of the year and highly aerated water released from the bottom of the lake make it an almost ideal habitat for rainbows.

"In 1976, we stocked more than 100,000 catchable-sized trout in four locations around the state during the first four months of the year," Bounds said, adding that stocking figure was exceeded before the end of March this year.

"We have been encouraged with the response from fishermen around the state," Bounds said. "Almost year-round we get calls from people all over the state wanting to know when we will be stocking trout in the various locations."

He noted similar responses to trout fishing from the fly angler as well the bank fisherman. Since the hatchery-reared fish do not disperse far from the point where they are stocked in the river, they readily take bait such as cheese, corn or small, bronze-colored spinner baits.

Texas receives its trout in two sizes from U. S. Fish

LEGAL NOTICES

An ordinance fixing and determining the general service rate to be charged for sales of natural gas to residential and commercial consumers within the town limits of Buckholts, Milam County, Texas, and providing for the manner in which such rate may be changed, adjusted and amended.

Be it ordained by the board of commissioners of the town of Buckholts.

Section 1. Effective with the first gas bills rendered from and after thirty (30) days from the date of final passage of this ordinance, the maximum general service rate for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the town limits of Buckholts by Lone Star Gas Company, its successors and assigns, is hereby fixed and determined as follows:

First 1,000 Cu. Ft. or Fraction Thereof $3.778 Gross, $3.40 Net.

Next, 3,000 Cu. Ft. or Fraction Thereof $2.522 Per Mcf Gross; $2.27 Per Mcf Net.

Next 6,000 Cu. Ft. or Fraction Thereof $2.400 Per Mcf Gross; $2.16 Per Mcf Net.

Next 15,000 Cu. Ft. or Fraction thereof, $2.311 Per Mcf Gross; $2.08 Per Mcf Net.

Next 75,000 Cu. Ft. or Fraction Thereof, $2.244 Per Mcf Gross; $2.02 Per Mcf Net.

Over 100,000 Cu. Ft. or Fraction Thereof, $2.189 Per Mcf Gross; $1.97 Per Mcf Net.

No gas bill will be rendered to any residential or commercial consumer served under the above rate not consuming any gas during any monthly billing period, except that where customer's only use for gas service is in an outdoor grill and / or a fireplace starter, the amount shown for the first consumption block shall constitute a minimum monthly bill.

ADJUSTMENTS

The amount of each monthly bill computed at the above stated rates shall be subject to the following adjustments: Plus or minus the amount of any increase or decrease, respectively, above or below the $1.3488 per Mcf level in the intracompany city gate charge as authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas or other regulatory body having jurisdiction for gas delivered to Lone Star Gas Company's distribution system for sale to residential and commercial consumers where such changes are caused by increases or decreases in the cost of gas purchased by the Company; plus an amount equivalent to the proportionate part of any new tax, or increased tax, or any other governmental imposition, rental, fee or charge (except state, county, city and special district ad valorem taxes and taxed on net income) levied, assessed or imposed subsequent to July 1, 1976, upon or allocable to the Company's distribution operations, by any new or amended law, ordinance or contract. Company, at its option, may forego the application of any adjustment if such adjustment would result in an increase in the monthly bill; however, failure of Company to apply any adjustment shall not constitute a waiver of Company's right from time to time, or at any time, to make any adjustment, in whole or in part, in any subsequent current monthly bill that may be applicable to such bill.

Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date; gross rate shall be applicable thereafter.

The above rate is applicable to each residential and commercial consumer per meter per month or for any part of a month for which gas is used at the same location.

LEGAL NOTICES

In addition to the aforesaid rates, Company shall have the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct its business and to carry out its reasonable rules and regulations in effect.

SECTION 2. The rate set forth in Section 1 may be changed and amended by either the City or Company furnishing gas in the manner provided by law. Service hereunder is subject to the orders of regulatory bodies having jurisdiction, and to the Company's Rules and Regulations currently on file in the Company's office.

SECTION 3. It is hereby found and determined that the meeting at which this ordinance was passed was open to the public, as required by Texas law, and that advance public notice of the time, place and purpose of said meeting was given.

Passed and Approved on this the 7th day of April A.D. 1977.

Interstate Commerce Commission Notice
AB 12 (Sub-No. 37)
Southern Pacific Transportation

Company Abandonment Between Quinif and Rosebud, in Falls and Milam Counties, Texas
March 25, 1977

The Interstate Commerce Commission hereby gives notice that its Section of Energy and Environment has concluded that the proposed abandonment by the Southern Pacific Transportation Co. of a line of railroad between Quinif and Rosebud, in Falls and Milam Counties, Tex., a distance of 14.0 miles, if approved by the Commission, does not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), 42 U.S.C. SS 4321, et seq., and that preparation of a detailed environmental impact statement will not be required under section 4332 (2) (C) of the NEPA.

It was concluded, among other things, that diversion of rail traffic at the levels of recent years will not result in a significant increase in energy consumption, highway traffic, or air pollution. There are no indications of definite developmental activities which are reliant upon continued service over the line. Therefore, the abandonment is not expected to have a serious adverse impact on rural or community development.

This conclusion is contained in a staff-prepared environmental threshold assessment survey, which is available on request to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Office of Proceedings, Washington, D.C. 20423; telephone 202-275-7011.

Interested persons may comment on this matter by filing their statements in writing with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., 20423, on or before May 11, 1977.

It should be emphasized that the environmental threshold assessment survey represents an evaluation of the environmental issues in the proceeding and does not purport to resolve the issue of whether the present or future public convenience and necessity permit discontinuance of the line proposed for abandonment. Consequently, comments on the environmental study should be limited to discussion of the presence or absence of environmental impacts and reasonable alternatives.
ROBERT L. OSWALD,
Secretary

FANCY THAT!
If all the battery-operated devices in this country were counted, they would add up to about 400 million. That's two for every person in the United States!
If all the batteries used to power these devices in just one year were laid end to end they would reach from New York City to Phoenix. That's a distance of 2,400 miles!
That's also about $600 million worth of batteries we're throwing out this year. And for you that's neither economically nor ecologically sound. Now there is an alternative: the innovative, low-cost General Electric Recharge Battery System with batteries that can be recharged at least 1,000 times or more!
